Tokyo Mob In Demonstration Against British

Embassy In Tokyo Surrounded By Screaming Mob Seeking To Crash Gates

THOUSANDS TAKE PART IN OUTBREAK

Additional Police Reserves Are Sent To Disperse Mob And Protect Ambassador

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

TOKYO, July 14—Violent anti-British demonstrations broke out on a large scale before the British embassy today, with some members of the screaming mob trying to crash through the gates on motorcycles.

Stones flew over the heads of struggling police, smashing some of the embassy windows. Additional police were sped to the spot to disperse the crowd and protect Sir Robert L. Craigie, the ambassador, and members of his staff.

Thousands of demonstrators, yelling patriotic and anti-British slogans, entirely surrounded the embassy compound. Fighting with police reserves, they made it impossible for any members of the embassy corps to leave the building.

Worst Outbreak

One frenzied mob leader, caught trying to climb over the main gate, bit a policeman's hand so badly he required hospital treatment.

The latest outbreak, the worst in a series of attacks here and at Tsingtao and other Chinese cities, came on the eve of negotiations over the Japanese-imposed blockade of the British and French concessions at Tientsin.

With the outlook for agreement dark, Foreign Minister Hachiro

Declares Hitler Will Take Danzig When He Desires

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

MUNICH, July 14.—When Chancellor Hitler wants to take Danzig, "nobody in the world is going to prevent it!"

This was the substance today of a declaration by Adolf Wagner, Nazi leader for the Munich district, as he opened a four-day festival of German art.

In the presence of Rudolf Hess, deputy Nazi leader, and other government and Nazi party notables, Wagner emphasized that the Sudetenland, Ostmark (Austria) and Danzig "do not represent materialistic values for Germany."

First of all, he said, "they are symbols and proof of German cultural life. Therefore we have a righteous claim there, and the right to transform that claim into reality.

"When and where the fuehrer will decide—and nobody in the world is going to prevent it."

Hear Reports Germany Has Lease On Port Of Trieste

(International News Service)

GENEVA, Switzerland, July 14.—German expansion—this time with the aid of the Reich's ally, Italy, and by cultural means—has reached out to the Adriatic sea through a ten-year lease on the port of Trieste, according to unconfirmed reports today.

The Reich has taken over complete control of the city, the rumors said, and has been operating the port as a free ctiy for about a month.

(A flat denial that any lease had been accorded to Germany in Trieste was issued in Rome by the Italian foreign office and ministry of popular culture. There has been no agreement giving Germany "fresh" privileges in the port, it was stated.

(Reports have been current in Rome for some time that a plan was contemplated to accord to Germany the same rights in Trieste which Austria enjoyed before the anschluss.

(No such agreement is in effect yet, it was insisted, however.

(With the comment: "If these reports are true, it would appear that Germany already is a Mediterranean power," the story of the alleged Trieste lease was carried in the Paris newspaper Elcelsior. The paper's Zurich correspondent said he investigated the situation and added: "What is certain is that the Germans are actually engaged in extensive construction works in Trieste.")

Swiss reports—which tied in with suggestions that the expulsion of foreigners from Italy's Bolzano providence was related to German troop movements southward—said that German troops and war supplies are being sent through Trieste to Libya, Italian north African colony.

Taxicab And Light Truck In Collision At Grant And Mercer Streets Last Night

Four persons were injured, one of them seriously, when a taxicab of the Campbell Taxi Co. and a light truck owned by the Andrews Plumbing company were involved in a collision at the intersection of Grant and North Mercer streets at 11:55 p. m. Thursday. Benjamin Haines, aged 8 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. According to the report made to police by Mr. Haines, who was driving the Andrews Plumbing Co. truck, he was proceeding east on Grant street, and had stopped at the intersection and was proceeding across the street when the taxicab, driven by Drexell L. Rankin of 511 Cherry street, going north on Mercer street, struck his truck.

In addition to the injuries suffered by Benjamin Haines, his brother, Randall Haines, aged 5, received brush burns about the right knee and was treated by a nearby physician.

Increased Bag Limits For State Game Season

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 14.—A more liberal season for Pennsylvania's 600,000 hunters was decreed by the game commission today as it announced increased bag limits on most kinds of game.

Decision to allow a full month of gunning for most game was reached by Col. Nicholas Biddle, president of the commission, following consultation with directors of the federation of sportsmen's clubs, the Izaak Walton league, and others.

Bag limits for ruffed grouse, bobwhite quail, rinkneck pheasants, and racoons were increased as follows:

Ruffed grouse, from two a day and six a season to two a day and 10 a season; bobwhite quail, four and 12 to five and 15; ringneck pheasants, two and 10 to two and 12; racoons, two and 10 to three and 12.

Limits for turkeys, squirrels, and rabbits remained the same as last season, at one, six and 20, and four and 20, respectively.

At the same time ,the commission declared a statewide season on bucks, but allowed the killing of antlerless deer in only four counties and for only two days. Warren, Forest, part of Potter lying north of U. S. Highway 6, and part of Jefferson lying northwest of U. S. Highway 19 were the counties in which hunters will be allowed to kill antlerless deer.

Biddle said that in the four counties named, bucks will be hunted from Dec. 1 to 13, inclusive, and during the next two days (to Dec.

Squalus Breaks Pontoon Chains, Dives To Bottom

More Than 20 Feet Of Squalus Above Surface When Accident Occurs

NAVAL RESCUE CREW REJECTED

(International News Service)

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 14.—Disheartened but undaunted, the navy today went solidly about the task of making preparations for a second attempt to raise the sunken submarine Squalus, carrying a cargo of 26 men.

The first attempt ended in failure as seven weeks of salvage preparations were undone by a sudden lunge to the surface of the air-filled bow of the Squalus, a brief poke of the nose 20 feet above churning foam like a ghost risen for a glance at reality, and then a dive back into a watery grave.

Pontoons Wrecked

Pontoons were wrecked, giant chains were snapped like string and salvage preparations were back practically where they started.

Rear Admiral Cyrus W. Cole, commandant of the Portsmouth navy yard, in charge of the salvage operations was dejected. Some navy officials actually had tears coursing down their cheeks. Lieutenant Commander Oliver F. Naquin and his executive officer, Lieutenant William T. Doyle, who were among 33 rescued from the Squalus after she sank during a trial dive May 23, just stood white-faced and silent aboard the salvage ship Falcon as they saw the Squalus' bow break through the water, hold there lurching for 10 seconds, and then plunge back beneath the water. They realized the navy had lost in its first bid to harness the Squalus and bring her back to port.

Start Diving Again

Navy officials agreed that the Squalus probably had been damaged, but Rear Admiral Cole voiced the opinion that when she settled back to the sticky mud bottom she remained upright.

Divers were ordered to descend to-

Declares WPA Workers Cannot Strike Against Federal Government

Warning Given As President Confers With A. F. Of L. Leaders Today

ATTORNEY GENERAL STRESSES SAME POINT

Racketeering And Intimidation Reports Are Being Investigated, He Adds

By DAMON RUNYON, JR.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 14.—President Roosevelt today warned the thousands of WPA workers on strike throughout the country that they cannot strike against the federal government.

Mr. Roosevelt issued the warning at his press conference a short time before he conferred with American Federation of Labor leaders, who are protesting against wage and hour provisions of the new relief act.

Other than the blunt statement that one can't strike against the government the president declined comment on the WPA crisis. He said the problem was too complex, pointing out that it affected persons in all walks of life.

Meanwhile, a special committee of the U. S. M. conference of mayors met in Washington to consider the WPA strikes. The committee, headed by Mayor LaGuardia of New York, included Mayors Harold H. Burton of Cleveland; Richard W. Reading of Detroit, C. D. Scully of Pittsburgh, Dan W. Hoan of Milwaukee, Joseph D. Scholtz of Louisville and Ross D. Rogers of Amarillo, Tex.

The president, in making known his attitude on the strikes, confirmed the stand taken by Attorney General Frank Murphy yesterday.

State Leader Hoping Strike Can Be Averted

A. F. Of L. Head In State Hopeful Of Last-Minute Solution Of Situation

AWAIT ORDER OF PRESIDENT GREEN

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—James L. McDevitt, president of the Pennsylvania Federal of Labor, today declared that A. F. of L. leaders are "living in hope" that a last-minute solution would avert the scheduled state-wide strike of WPA workers at quitting time this afternoon.

Pointing out that William Green, head of the national federation, and President Roosevelt are conferring in Washington on the problem, McDevitt asserted "we are still hoping that something will happen and that something will come out of that conference to eliminate the necessity of the strike.

Seek To Avoid Strike

"We are using every influence to avoid a strike. We are fully cognizant of our responsibility in the matter and our real interest is to keep these WPA people at work," he added.

McDevitt declined to speculate on whether the long-heralded walkout would be called off, declaring only that the state building council and union leaders generally would follow the lead of Green.

"If Mr. Green makes any request or issues an order as the result of today's meeting in Washington, it will be complied with fully," McDevitt said.

Meanwhile, however, the Philadelphia building trades council met today to "determine the policy to be pursued if it becomes necessary to withdraw our men from WPA projects.

Expect 15,000 Lions To Gather In Pittsburgh

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, July 14.—As the steel city today unostentaciously began dressing itself with flags, drapes and bunting, some 15,000 lions prepared to descend for their 23rd annual convention Tuesday and create a roar heard 'round the United States and six other countries.

And if the expectations of Edwin R. Kingsley, general convention chairman, are realized, there will probably be plenty of "roar" from befuddled Pittsburghers also who will be shaken from their usual routine by a string of parades, parties, roving delegations and spending of money—almost three-quarters of a million dollars—which will make the coming convention the best and largest the Lions have ever boasted. So sayeth Chairman Kingsley.

Cuba Seeks Convention

The delegation of Lions from Cuba alone are expected to spend about $20,000 in hopes of gaining the convention next year, Kingsley reported. Besides bringing a gigantic reproduction of a railroad engine and tender which will hold 50 persons, this group has obtained the services of the Cuban Marine Band.

Hundreds Of Planes To Join Maneuvers

Britain Plans Strength Display

North Sea Naval And Air Demonstrations Are Set For August

PLAN TO MASS 130 WARSHIPS

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 14.—Hundreds of Royal Air Force planes will join about 130 warships in August for maneuvers in the North Sea which will carry Europe's "white war" to Germany's doorstep on an unparalleled scale, it was learned today.

While awaiting the gigantic war games, Britain will continue her policy of "daily shocks" for the dictator nations with more mass R.A.F. flights abroad. For the first time, it was understood, Spain will be brought into the picture with the dispatch of British planes to the Spanish border. Some of the flights over France will be held at night.

Concentrate Full Manpower

In addition to the 12,000 reserve officers and men who must report back to duty July 31—just 25 years after Czar Nicholas II ordered general mobilization of the Russian fighting forces—the full man-power of the fleet will be concentrated aboard ship.

King George will review the combined fleets in Weymouth Bay Aug. 9. The maneuvers, extending until the third week in September, will constitute a test mobilization and keep the fleet in readiness for any emergency during the critical days of late summer.

Afterwards the fleets will stand by in the Mediterranean and the southwestern ports of Britain.

TOKYO MOB IN DEMONSTRATION AGAINST BRITISH

Arita invited Sir Robert to meet him tomorrow for preliminary conversations on Tientsin, and the British ambassador, it was understood, accepted.

Japan's insistence that the whole question of British "cooperation" with Nippon in China be included in the scope of the conference was reemphasized, however, by the foreign office spokesman. The forthcoming Anglo-Japanese conference, he said, would deal with the Tientsin blockade issue "from every possible angle."

Holding a lash over the British negotiators, Japanese military authorities threatened to strengthen the blockade if the Tokyo parley does not progress satisfactorily. Nevertheless, advices from Tokyo indicated that restrictions at Tientsin had been relaxed, and an abundance of milk was being sent into the Anglo-French concessions.

Bombs Explode At Shanghai

Shanghai, July 14.—Two bombs today exploded in the British consulate at Tsingtao, causing minor damage, but injuring no one.

The Japanese consul promptly apologized, and promised an investigation.

Worse demonstrations are looked for in Tsingtao tomorrow. Japanese authorities at the Shantung province port, according to messages to Shanghai, have threatened virtually to withhold protection of British lives and property, unless the British agree not to protest against previous anti-British actions.

British authorities charged that the Chinese mobs are incited by Japanese agitators. The warship Dizmond is in Tsingtao to help protect British subjects.

Kulangsu island, the international settlement at Amoy, is threatened with a shortage of water owing to Japanese action, dispatches asserted.

The Japanese are cutting off the island's water for two days, saying that engine repairs must be made at the pumping plant. They promised to resume the supply Sunday.

With Japanese warships separating the island from Amoy Proper, Kulengau is suffering from the same sort of blockade as Tientsin.

day to determine the exact position of the submarine and the extent of the damage.

If another salvage attempt is possible, it was estimated, it cannot be made before next September at the earliest.

Weeks of work lay ahead of the divers. They must clear the tangled debris of lines, cables and pontoon wreckage, and dig new chain channels under the hull.

Something Wrong

Reason for the sudden lunge of the bow, it was believed, was that the forward part of the Squalus—from where 33 survivors were rescued—was filled with air, while the stern, where 26 bodies still remained, was filled with 800 tons of water.

Navy officials knew this, and had calculated their preparations in an effort to overcome the difference in the weight of the craft fore and aft, but in the minutes during which the pontoons were being filled with air, something apparently went wrong.

Most people can tell the more common, such as roses, hollyhocks and petunias, but there is an infinite variety of other pretty flowers, and the observer who can name half of them is really educated in flowerology. Evan R. Lewis

Evan R. Lewis, aged 67 years, passed away in his home, 405 Waldo street, shortly after midnight, and a very short illness was ended. Mr. Lewis, of Welsh descent, was one of the best known citizens of the South Side and word of his death brought sadness today to his many friends.

He was born in Swansea, South Wales, May 1, 1872, son of Sarah Ann and Rees Lewis. In 1899 he married Margaretta Jane Jones; he lost his wife by death in 1933.

Mr. Lewis came to this country in 1895 and settled in Connellsville, moving to New Castle in 1905. He worked in the New Castle Works of the tin mill until 1933, when he retired. A member of the Maitland Memorial Primitive Methodist church, and always with a deep interest in spiritual rather than material matters, upon his retirement from the mill work, he passed a year in the mountains of Kentucky doing mission work. Mr. Lewis was a valuable member of his church; he taught the Men's Bible class, and was a local preacher in the denomination.

Besides his wife he was preceded in death by two sisters and one brother. Surviving are the following children: Sadie, Mabel, Evan R., Jr., Elizabeth, Margaretta and Dorothy Mae, at home, David R. and William J., of New Castle; four grandchildren, Alice Mae, David, Jr., Kay and Janet Elaine Lewis, and three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Smith, Mrs. Sarah A. Dezulian and Miss Hannah Lewis, all of Swansea.

Services will be conducted Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in the Maitland Memorial Primitive Methodist church with the pastor, Rev. J. A. Tinker, in charge. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

During her life Mrs. Watson attended Grove City college and later Volant college, from which she was graduated in 1893, then taught in the schools of Struthers, O., until her marriage. At the death of her husband she returned to the teaching profession, serving in the schools of Lawrence and Mercer counties until her retirement in 1931.

She was a member of Neshannock Presbyterian church and until recent years was active in the Sunday school and missionary work. Wilmington township was her home since 1896.

Surviving are three sons, James B., of Volant, Ralph E., of Wilmington township, and Theodore C., of New Castle; 10 grandchildren, one brother, E. C. Bingham, of Golden, Col., and a sister, Mrs. Sarah Blake, of Warren, O.

DECLARES WPA WORKERS CANNOT STRIKE AGAINST GOV.

With both statements, the A. F. of L. leaders were forewarned that they would have to seek a peaceful solution of the WPA controversy without resort to additional strikes.

A. F. Of L. Leaders Confer

President William Green and high-ranking officials of the federation meet with President Roosevelt to discuss the present WPA crisis, which occurred when thousands of relief workers demanded the prevailing rate of wage instead of the new security wage system.

As thousands of WPA workers were being dismissed for remaining idle five or more days in the protest work stoppages, Attorney General Frank Murphy declared there should be no strikes of any kind against the federal government.

"Although the striking men are not criminals, out of the strike may come a criminal situation," Murphy stated. "The protests of the strikers are viewed with respect and sympathy, but we want to guide the situation within the law and in the public interest."

Racketeering Evident

At the same time, Murphy revealed that "racketeering" evidence has come to the attention of the justice department. He said the department has been requested to investigate reports of intimidation of non-striking WPA workers in East St. Louis, Ill.

"In some instances there is evidence of racketeering which is different from a sincere protest which is understandable," he stated. "Such cases the government ought to strike at."

He said "racketeering" evidence in WPA workers has been developed in Minneapolis, Minn., and other parts of the nation. WPA officials at East St. Louis said there were reports that "a large number of persons" attempted to coerce non-striking WPA workers into joining protest strikes.

Being Dismissed

Meanwhile, strikers who ignored WPA Commissioner Harrington's warning to return to work within five days or face discharge were receiving dismissal slips in cities throughout the country. The last official report, issued yesterday, said 12,906 of 92,720 striking WPA workers have been fired.

The report, however, was a count of dismissals up to and including Wednesday, and discharges Thursday were expected to increase the total possibly several thousand. The report showed also that strikes had increased by Wednesday, when 92,770 workers were reported absent from work, compared to 77,627 on Monday.

WPA Strike Call Result Uncertain

Whether or not workers of the Works Progress Administration would join in the state-wide strike this afternoon in protest against the 130-hour provision which is in effect, was not known this afternoon.

A strike call has been issued by union officials over the state, but there apparently was some indecision upon the part of local WPA workers. The WPA does not work on Saturday or Sunday, so until Monday morning there will be no definite information in the matter.

SOME IDEAS OF SPANISH JUSTICE

ONE of the least pleasant phases of the sanguinary history of Spain is that written in the blood and the agony of the vanquished since the fall of Madrid. These months have been given over largely to the grim business of providing victims for the firing squad, whose lives have been snuffed out with no more compassion or hesitancy than would have been shown if they were beetles gathered in a garden or stray, starving dogs rounded up in the streets.

In view of the cruel, ruthless record of the past, it is probable that Professor Julian Bestiero, 69-year-old philosopher and last head of the Madrid Council of Defense, is fortunate. He has been permitted to live for a while, although the remaining years of life will be spent in a Spanish prison.

Animated by the vain hope of ending the martyrdom of his country and sensing the futility of continued resistance, Professor Besteiro took the initiative in a movement which ousted Juan Negrin as premier and then surrendered Madrid to Generalissimo Franco. He wished to see Madrid preserved from the horrors of destruction and its people spared the agonies of a prolonged, decimating siege.

Now, in due course of time, he has made his appearance before a Nationalist military tribunal. These trials, of course, are travesties. Regardless of circumstances, all those marked for Nationalist vengeance are convicted. Professor Besteiro was no exception to the rule. For having helped "prolong the Spanish civil war," which in reality he helped to bring to a summary end, he will spend the rest of his life in prison.

The generalissimo deals justice with a heavy hand. Whether his methods are conducive to peace and tranquillity within the stricken land or to a renewal of strife once the beaten have rested a while, is a question which future events, perhaps tragic, will answer.

ROMANCE REMAINS

Literary critics who read the trend of modern literature as indicating the passing of romance are reading against the truth. Romance came early into the world, and it will stay late. From to time, literature may wander after new gods and romance may temporarily be laid aside, but not for long. Man invariably takes it back again to his heart when he craves the warming thrill that nothing else in writing can give.

The Muse that holds sway over romance has made for herself a place from which no assaults by the so-called realistic or psychological or any other school can oust her. Romance has rendered man great service by cheering him in time of depression, by firing him to heroic action, by stirring him to high idealism, by shortening his hours of weariness. Other kinds of literature will not replace it, because they can't.

A THANKLESS LOT

There is probably no more unappreciative person on the entire globe than the average American.

In a dictator-ridden world, we have here more liberty, more freedom of thought and action, than can be found anywhere else on the globe. And all we do is take it for granted.

We have more creature comforts, more domestic conveniences, more pleasures, and a higher living standard than obtains under any other government. Yet we spend most of our time growling and grumbling about it.

What most of us need is a keener and deeper sense of gratitude for the blessings which are ours. We are not really discontented. But good fortune has been ours so long that we have forgotten how to appreciate it. Better citizenship also means more appreciative citizenship.

HE HAS WHAT IT TAKES

Credit Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander of the United States fleet in Asiatic waters, with an uncommonly large amount of diplomatic strength and wisdom. He literally has what it takes.

Faced with the recurring problems that would have baffled a career man in the State Department, Admiral Yarnell has met each crisis with an all-around competency that redounds to the glory of the Navy and merits the hearty approval of all patriotic citizens.

Not that he has blustered around the Orient with a big stick. Far from it. And yet it must be conceded that the Japanese militarists have been unable to bluff this seagoing Yankee into meek acceptance of unwarranted decrees and rulings.

When the record of the Sino-Jap disturbance is finally written, the name of Admiral Yarnell is sure to loom large. His efforts have been thoroughly statesmanlike, exceptionally shrewd and unceasingly vigorous. It is the pride of America to have such a man at any helm.

GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME

The electric fan drones industriously, the ice tinkles in the tall glasses—but still it's hot. Beads of perspiration persist in popping out on your face, and your collar is in a sad state of collapse. Some heartless friend persists in reading aloud the cheerful items on the front page of the paper concerning the numerous deaths from heat prostration all over the country. Outside the green, the pretty green grass that was springing up so verdantly a few weeks ago, is looking dry and lifeless and wilted.

You drink another glass of ice-water, mop your brow again, and, drawn as though by a magnet, you turn again to the thermometer and see the mercury just below the hundred mark. There are instruments that meekly assert that it's ninety-two when everybody knows it's hot enough to fry an egg on the sidewalk. A passing acquaintance brutally asks, "Is it hot enough for you?" And an equally pestiferous human calamity grabs you by the lapel and insists on explaining that it's not the heat but the humidity. Your dog lies drooping on the door-step, his dry tongue nanging out, stirring himself once in a while to shake off the flies that annoy him.

It's the good old summer time. It's the time that the poets and the song writer's praise. And, remember, it's the time you were wishing for four or five months ago when you woke up and found snow on the ground. Well, it's here. Say, is it hot enough for you?

Social justice for the poor is right, and taxes must pay the bill. But can't we justify the plan without proving the rich wicked and the poor righteous?

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

FUNERALS NOT FOR CHILDREN

A school superiintendent writes from Texas:

"Dear Dr. Myers: Here is a matter about which I wish you would write. Recently our next-door neighbor died. He was the father of one child, a girl of six years. She had been a constant playmate of our little girl of five. She spent the day with us when her Daddy died. When the undertaker brought the body to the house it was night, and many of the relatives tried to induce the little girl to go in to look at her father. She refused and ran out at the back of the house. Of course, she went to bed in a nervous state.

"Early the next morning at our house she talked calmly with our little girl about her Daddy being dead."

Then he tells of the relatives descending on the little child to force her to go look at the dead form.

"The grandfather pleaded with her with great feeling . . . said that it was so strange, since she had been very fond of her father.

Was Reason

"I told him that was the reason she did not want to go to see him now. But the poor little girl became the talk of the village. People shook their heads and remarked sarcastically about the child's refusal, and many were careless enough to speak of it where she could hear them.

"Why do people feel that a poor, scared child must go look upon what is causing all the relatives to weep frantically?"

This child's experience is representative of that of hundreds of young children immediately following death in the family. Not only should adults avoid forcing children to look at the dead face of a loved one, but they should try to persuade them not to. Why should children under 12 attend even the funeral of a family member, anyway?

Has Viewed Corpse

Much against my better judgment, I have, in order not to wound my friends, "viewed the corpse", but have longed for the time when such silliness might cease. Why should any intelligent person ever want to see the cold form of a departed loved one? I want to remember my mother, whom I lost five years ago, when she last smiled and laughed, and drive from my memory forever any less delightful picture of her.

When we grow more intelligent, we will abolish funerals, or entirely dispense with the dead body at such occasions. Where there is a ceremony, let it be to recall a few of the ideals for which the departed had lived, and the contribution to human happiness he or she had rendered.

We do most honor to those loved ones we have lost by keeping alive in our memories the joyous experiences they contributed to our lives, and what they did to make us and others want to strive for things not made with hands. What better goals can we set for ourselves, whether we think in terms of traditional religious concepts or mental hygiene?

Solving Parent Problems

Q. My baby is three years old. She is inclined to use her left hand even to eat. Should I try to make her right-handed?

A. No. It might do her no harm if you were to slip a toy or tool into her right hand occasionally, provided she is not annoyed thereby. But the safer way is to let her alone and not tamper with her handedness.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A GREAT GAME

Baseball's centennial celebration is over, and the second hundred years begins with typical fan shoptalk, in school, barber shop and office: Are the Yanks unbeatable? Is Hubbell's arm dead? Will DiMaggio beat Ruth's homer record?

The surface topics vary yearly; but interest in the game itself is deeply rooted in American life. Quite probably this is because—in its demand, its rewards, its penalties—organized baseball is a pattern of traditional American system of success by achievement. Big league stars fight a long, hard battle up from the sandlots. They stay up there only so long as they deliver the goods. The penalty of dishonesty is disgrace and oblivion. The competition is keen, but is open and fair.

And the high moments go beyond mere triumph of winning. The greatest sports thrill he ever knew, wrote the veteran reporter, Damon Runyan, came in the heyday of the late Christy Mathewson of the Giants, greatest pitcher of all time. The Giants were losing. Pitcher after pitcher blew up. Again Manager McGraw signalled the warm-up "bull pen". Then Runyan got his thrill. Just the sight of a big-framed man, wearing a glossy old glove, coming onto the field—and the wild, mad scream of the hysterically joyous crowd drowning out the leather-lunged announcer's "Math-hew-son now pitching for New York!" What such a man may have meant in way of clean inspiration to hero-worshipping youth is incalculable.

LANGUAGE OF THE RACKETEERS

From a booklet written by C. V. Werne and published by the Better Business Bureaus we have extracted the following definitions:

Dynamiter: A high pressure, fly-by-night salesman who can close big deals. A common expression for a salesman using the telephone to sell fraudulent stocks.

Hot Stuff: Literature pertaining to a stock issue that is a good selling propaganda whether truthful or not.

Hundred Percenter: Salesman or broker who trades something entirely worthless for a security having a market value.

Scenery. A board of directors whose names carry weight. Sometimes used in referring to dividend checks carried by "re-loaders."

Spieler. The orator who makes the talk when the "lunch-and-lecture" system is used.

Up and Up. An honest transaction or a legitimate deal is said to be on the up and up.

The story which has probably been repeated more than any other and which has doubtless brought more chuckles than any other is the Finnegan story. You remember, of course, how the next time that a train in his section ran off the tracks, he followed the instructions of his boss by reporting: "Off agin, on agin, gone agin. Finnegan."

That Money Bill Victory
None To Sweet For Roosevelt
Vote On Matter Was Too Close

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Whether President Roosevelt's prestige was added to or subtracted from by the senate's final vote, a few days ago, on the desperately fought money bill is a disputed point in Washington.

To be sure, the White House won what it was demanding—a two-year extension of the presidential "dollar devaluation power" and a similar continuation of the treasury's two-billion-dollar "stabilization fund" for the regulation of international exchange, supposedly to Uncle Sam's advantage. But it won by only a 43-39 margin. That wasn't a very overwhelming triumph considering that, on paper, the administration has 69 out of a total of 96 senators. Moreover, the presidential group picked up two maverick ballots and one Republican (Senators Norris, Independent; La Follette, Progressive; Borah, G. O. P.). If those three had gone the other way the executive mansion's side would have been beaten. It was too tight a squeak to brag about.

Neither are the other folk doing any chortling. They'd hoped for a victory and they didn't score one. What's worse, they figure that they were sold out.

Were They Sold Out?

The silverites are the senators whom the anti-administrationists accuse of playing a dirty trick on them.

It was like this:

The emergency authority which President Roosevelt was so anxious to have continued was voted to him by congress early in his first term. It was due to expire at midnight June 30. The representatives, well in advance of that juncture, voted to keep it going. Signs were that the senate would acquiesce. However, some of the acquiescent senators were frantic to get higher prices paid by the treasury for silver from their home states. Almost no Republicans and only a few anti-New Deal Democrats sympathized with the silver bloc. Nevertheless, they said, "Let's give the silverites what they want on condition that they'll vote with us against continued devaluation, et cetera."

The silverites agreed. The coalition voted against any more devaluation and to extinguish the treasury's two-billion-dollar stabilization fund. Likewise there was a majority for a stiff advance in the treasury's silver price—away above what the metal sells for in world markets.

Thus the senate and the house were deadlocked. As usual in such cases the money bill went to a compromise committee between the two chambers. Rather belately the administrationists realized that they must make concessions to the silverites, or their whole devaluation (etc.) program would go into the discard. They did make concessions. They didn't give the silverites all

THE EASY WAY

To talk with a beggar I never stay,
I toss him a coin and hurry away;
For never I'd end if I once began
To question so sorry and sad a man.
There are so many things that I want to know
That before I'd finished the day would go.

Whenever a beggar's hand I spy
My mind starts questioning, how and why
And what (for never it plain appears)
Has killed the hopes of his earlier years?
And what (which never the stranger sees)
Lies back of the whispered: "Mister, please!"

None of my business! True, quite true!
Yet those are facts which I wish I knew.
And so with a stolid look I mask
The questions grave I am afraid to ask.
For if he should talk I should have to stay,
So I toss him a coin. It's the easy way.

The Great Game Of Politics

The Palace Plotters

Washington, July 14.

THERE are, these days, a number of things with which the select little coterie of extreme New Dealers, upon whom the President relies for intellectual stimulation, literary assistance, social enjoyment and advice generally, are not pleased. It is interesting that the two which worry them most have to do neither with issues nor principles but are entirely concerned with personalities and jobs.

ONE is their inability to oust from his Cabinet post Secretary of War Harry Woodring the other is their failure—so far—to push young Mr. Robert H. Jackson, now Solicitor General, higher up the political ladder. That neither of these things has been done is not for want of trying. In fact, an extraordinary amount of energy and ingenuity has been exercised in what up to date seems an exceedingly futile effort.

TAKE first the case of Mr. Woodring. Besides having a vast contempt for his intellectual attainments, the profound thinkers of the "inner circle" deeply resent what they regard as his "reactionary attitude." They unceasingly disparage him to the President, curse him among themselves, and his continued presence in the official family annoys them very much. The reasons the plotters have not been able to make headway against Mr. Woodring are—first, because characteristically they underrate his ability. Mr. Woodring is not impressive, but he has an excellent mind and far more nerve than they think.

SECOND, because Mr. Woodring by no means has kept his views concealed from the President—quite the contrary. It is routine stuff for the White House politicians to brand those who dissent from their theories of government as reactionaries. It is true that Mr. Woodring not only dissents but has dissented in the open at Cabinet meetings and to the President personally. He certainly is no one's yes man, and in fact has been more outspoken in Cabinet meetings than any of his colleagues. Of course, this has not endeared him to Mr. Roosevelt. Nevertheless, he is a very good Secretary of War, entirely circumspect in his public utterances, never critical outside the Cabinet meetings. You cannot very well demand a man's resignation because when asked his opinion he spoke the truth and gave you the benefit of his mind, which was what he thought you wanted.

NONE of this, however, prevents the palace politicians from cordially detesting him. Actually, their desires to get rid of him is so keen that they are willing to kick him upstairs, if necessary, and are responsible for the recently published forecast that he is to become Ambassador to England when Mr. Kennedy quits, which they hope will be shortly. It is a slightly silly idea and not apt to appeal to Mr. Woodring, but it is liked by its New Deal sponsors because they think it would serve the double purpose of getting Mr. Woodring out and pushing Mr. Jackson up. The program, as printed by one of the White House journalists, is that with Mr. Woodring in England, the President would transfer Mr. Murphy to the War Department and then elevate the eager Mr. Jackson to the Attorney General's job.

BUT that does not seem sensible either. For one thing, the ambitious Mr. Murphy would regard the shift as a setback for him and in his pious way certainly would resist. For another, Assistant Secretary of War Johnson believes he has been promised the place and would cut up pretty rough if passed over. There are moments when the Jackson boosters see these difficulties clearly and then they fall back on the hope that the next Supreme Court appointment will be his.

WITH what seems, under the circumstances, very poor taste, the suggestion is being publicly made that he may soon even become Chief Justice. To detached observers this anxious insistence upon "doing something" for Mr. Jackson, who so recently was given his present distinguished position, seems to indicate a complete lack of proportion. Considering his youth, his record and his apparently incurable habit of putting his foot in his mouth when he speaks, it does seem that Mr. Jackson's friends ought to be tremendously pleased that he is where he is. Certainly, his recent pronouncement that there could be no third-term issue involved in another nomination for Mr. Roosevelt because "the Court had canceled his first term" hardly seems to justify a campaign for his immediate promotion.

HOW SNAKES CRAWL

A snake cannot cross anything smooth. It must have a rough surface to pull its body along by rhythmic contractions. It cannot crawl for example, on smooth ice or glass —so if you are afraid of snakes, surround yourself with ice or glass and rest assured none will bother you.

Milk is the only universal food.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Disposal Plant Project Reaches Main Roadway

Good Progress Being Made In Stone Dikes Along City Property Here

Fine progress is being made in the stone dike project at the city disposal plant, just outside the Seventh Ward. At the present time the WPA workmen, have reached the main roadway, leading to Willow Grove with their work.

They are stripping the earth dike, over which the roadway to the plant runs, preparatory to placing hewn stone on it. One crew is working steadily stripping the sod, and another crew follows some distance back putting stone in place.

At the present time there is a very large crew of workmen engaged on the job. Stone wall along the river front has been completed. Purpose of this job is to protect the city disposal plant and other city property from destruction in times of high water and floods.

In addition to being quite practical, these new stone dikes are also quite attractive.

that they'd asked for, but they gave 'em part of it.

This compromise report was sent by the committee to the two houses, to be accepted or turned down.

The representatives, bossed by the administration, accepted it immediately.

The senate was slower to act.

Mystic Hour Approaches

Meantime the mystic hour of midnight, June 30, was approaching fast —and when the clock struck 12 the president's devaluation power and the treasury's stabilization fund were scheduled to vanish by limitation.

The anti-administrationists asked themselves, "Shall we just let 'em expire without a vote or shall we definitely reject that compromise report?"

If they'd been entirely sure of themselves they'd have voted to reject outright. But they were a bit leery of the silverites. Therefore, they elected to stall the vote off until midnight, June 30, allowing the presidential and treasury powers to die a natural death, with no vote whatever.

That's what they did—and congratulated themselves, "What's expired can't be resuscitated."

To their dismay the administrationists answered, "Oh yes, it can. On July 5 (hard onto a week after June 30) we'll force a vote on that compromise report, and if we accept it things will go on just as of yore."

They succeeded in forcing a vote on July 5. The anti-administrationists' worst fears were realized. The silverites didn't all flop, but enough of them did to give the administrationists a skimpy majority in favor of the compromise. That's why the anti-administrationists figure that they were sold out.

Warren Duffy, charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods, was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail.

Alfred Atkinson, parenthood case in which the child is dead, was sentenced to pay lying in expenses and funeral bill amounting in all to $225.

Mary Jeannette and Lillian Simi, charged with violation of the liquor laws, were each fined $100 and costs and give jail sentences of from one to three months.

Sentence was suspended upon James Zingaro, charged with the larceny of an automobile belonging to Ivor Davis. He is to pay $10 damage to the car, which was recovered, and costs in the case.

Broke Parking Meters

Carl Talbitzer and Benjamin Langdon, charged with breaking parking meters near the intersection of Diamond alley and West Washington street, were each fined one dollar and costs and given 90 days to the county jail. There was also a sentence of 30 days to jail on a charge of malicious mischief, the sentences to run concurrently. The only excuse the young men had to offer was that they had been drinking.

Judge Dickey remarked that parking meters are property of the taxpayers and anybody found tampering with them may expect to pay the penalty.

Topping Concert Delights Audience

Young Pittsburgh Tenor Scores In Appearance Here Thursday Night

If James Hilton's lovable old character, "Mr. Chippington" can be abbreviated into "Mr. Chips" there seems to be no reason why Robert Topping, tenor, cannot be referred to as "Tops" for his concert Thursday night in the First Presbyterian church. For it was just that, tops in artistic brilliance, in its decor, and in the work of the two artists who accompanied him, Ruth Perry Topping at the piano and Mabel Zehner at the organ.

Topping has a voice of unusual range, in his upper register sweet and lyrical and in his lower register big and virile as a baritone. He has been heard here before but never in concert and Thursday night he ran the gamut from ballads to arias and in all of them he was the artist. His concert Thursday night seemed to this reviewer to be the work of a young man who is on the very threshold of arrival in the circle of the musical greats.

His accompanists were more than just that. Each of them had a place on the program for individual work and one group for both piano and organ. While nothing much could detract from Topping's glorious voice, it is only fair to say that his accompanists enhanced that voice and its presentation.

The scene on the stage was something that might have been lifted from a lovely garden. Masses of cibodium ferns, of bamboo ferns, of smilax and pimosa and centering the whole effect a huge stand of lilies gleaming out from their framework of greenery like a diamond peeping out of green velvet.

The concert was sponsored by the Missionary Cabinet of the church and the crowd present on such a blistering night was a tribute to the work of the women back of the effort. It was warm in the church auditorium but that lyric voice of Topping's, floating out into the summer night somehow compensated for the heat.

The program follows:

Durch Die Walder, from "Der Freischutz" .. C. M. Von Weber
Vittoria Mio Core .. G. Carissimi

Closing Hour For Dance Halls To Be Enforced

Statement By Liquor Control Board In Conflict With State Law On Matter

In spite of an announcement made by the State Liquor Control Board, that dancing would be sanctioned .y the board up to the closing hour for the sale of liquor as prescribed by law, the state laws which govern regulation of dance halls, will be strictly enforced in the city of New Castle, Mayor Charles E. McGrath announced today.

The Liquor Control Board announcement would give places selling liquor permission to conduct dances until 2 a. m., while the law regulating dance floors, states that all dances, unless they are private dances which have a special permit, must be stopped at 1 a. m., week days and at midnight on Saturdaays.

The announcement of the Liquor Control Board is in conflict with the act of legislature of May 16, 1919, regulating dance halls, Mayor McGrath states. This law has never been repealed and will be enforced in the city of New Castle.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

In that grand hodge-podge of fact and fancy handed down by the old Greeks, modern man reads of Daedalus and the home-made wings he tinkered up for himself and a heedless son. Out from a prison in Crete they soared. Over Samos! Over Lebynthos! Then tragedy! Icarus rose too near the sun and the wax that bound his feathers melted.

It was pretty good flying while it lasted. But in the humdrum flatness of Newark, N. J., young Ted Bellak dreams of a sky voyage that makes the flight of Daedalus seem a puddle-jump. Sooner or later, he says, somebody—maybe himself—will soar across the Atlantic in a glider.

In a glider, mind you! Great planes have gone roaring through the clouds over that much water and more. They are doing it on a regular schedule this summer with hardly more fuss than commuter trains make on the run from New York to New Rochelle. But two, three, four mighty motors lift them up, thrust them along their aerial highways.

Bellak's glider will be a wispy dragon fly weighing around three hundred pounds and having a wing spread of sixty feet or so. Its only motors will be the currents of air he finds. Hot ones to carry him upward, cold ones to let him down, as a boy coasts a sled over hill and dale.

It is merely a dream, this notion of Bellak's and it may never be more. But the recent performances of gliders around Elmira, New York, made a man wonder. Perhaps in years to come a dragon fly of struts and silk will settle down on Le Bourget Field and its pilot, modest as today's Lindbergh, will scramble out of the cockpit, unkink stiff legs, loosen lips frosted by the bitter cold of the upper air and stammer something about having just got in from across the big water.

All the way over the Atlantic makes a lot of miles, even as the crow flies, and glider pilots are far from that mathematical accuracy of sailing. But every year they get farther along and farther up. The ocean crossing may be closer than hard-headed doubters like to admit.

Just the other day Naval Lieutenant Robert M. Stanley took a feather-weight contraption 13,400 feet above this surprised old earth. For a few hours he walked with angels, lived with eagles. He met a whippy storm as he left ground and its complex air currents did the trick. They were hot and cold and like the boy on a sled Stanley soared, sank, soared. Before he finally drifted back to land he had set a new American record for elevation. The world record is only about 800 feet more.

The world distance record is 405 miles measured straight-away between point of take-off and point of landing, the American about 233. Flights of more than a hundred are no longer anything much for expert pilots. At the Elmira meet Stanley made 190, Floyd Sweet did 110, Emil Lehecka 179 and Lewin Barringer did a flat 100, carrying a passenger. Then Chet Decker did 233 for the American record.

Bellak, practising perhaps for his dream flight, soared across Lake Michigan a month ago. If he had missed the tricky tides of air on which his slender wings balanced perilously he would, in all likelihood, have been a gone goose. That was a 54-mile flight. Just for fun turn your memory back a little over a quarter of a century. Remember a man who flew a motored plane across the English Channel? Bleriot! He covered half the distance that Bellak covered, and the world cheered. All Bellak got, however, was a nice little story back with the want-ads.

Of course he'll get more if ever he manages the dream-hop.

Pennsylvania Paid $437,433,742 In Federal Tax During Past Year

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Uncle Sam's tax collections during the fiscal year of 1939, ended last June 30th, fell off to the same degree in Pennsylvania as the country at large, according to figures made public here today by the treasury department.

During the year, federal tax collections in the Keystone state totaled $437,433,742. This was a decline of $36,337,930, or not quite eight per cent, below the $473,771,672 collected during the previous year. In the country as a whole, federal tax collections decreased just a little more than eight per cent.

Pennsylvania corporations paid to Uncle Sam as income tax a total of $83,848,349 in 1939 as against $98,382,684. This represented a drop of $14,534,335, or 14 per cent. Corporation tax payments in the nation as a unit likewise declined 14 per cent.

Pennsylvania individuals paid to the federal government only $82,732,911 in income taxes for 1939 compared with $108,490,952. This was a shrinkage of $25,758,041, or 24 per cent. In the country as a whole, such tax collections fell only 20 per cent.

Court Suit Will Be Instituted In Latera Petition

Council Approves Recommendation Of City Solicitor That Suit Be Entered To Get Court Ruling

After hearing a lengthy opinion of City Solicitor William D. Cobau relative to the request of Robert Latera, former city police officer, that he be returned to duty, council concurred in the recommendation that the city solicitor and mayor be authorized to institute legal proceedings immediately to procure a court decision on the matter at the earliest moment, as no legal authority appears at present in such an event.

Solicitor Cobau in part stated that it would be "our view that it was beyond the power of council to attempt to grant a leave of absence as was attempted in this case. Council, of course, possesses no right to grant leaves of absence to city employes unless such authority be specifically given by statute to council, or the right can be implied that the individual or the force in general may be benefitted by the action. In other words, we would not be prepared to say that it was improper to grant a leave of absence where the health of the employe required a temporary release from service, or where the police officer might desire to secure further training in his police work in other official positions. We do not believe council would have the power to grant a leave of absence without necessity or desirability of the action clearly appearing; and we believe it beyond the power of council to grant an indefinite leave of absence without assigning cause for the purpose, as we understand it, of permitting the employe to engage in private business undertakings of his own, in other words speculating with other jobs but attempting to reserve a permanent position on the police force."

STADIUM TO ECHO WITH BAND MUSIC ON OCTOBER 30

High School Outfits Will Compete When Marine Band Comes

Crack high school bands of the district will compete at Taggart stadium on the same day the United States Marine band plays in the Cathedral next fall under the auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, it was announced today.

Junior chamber leaders today said the stadium has been reserved for the student musicians' contest on October 30, the day of the famed band's concert.

When the Marine band appeared here a few years ago, under junior chamber auspices, high school bands competed for cash prizes. A crowd heard the bands in the afternoon and then saw Captain Taylor Branson, the Marine band's leader, conduct the winning student band on the Cathedral stage in the evening.

Proceeds of the October concert, G. W. Rapson, chairman of the committee in charge, will go to the junior chamber's industrial promotion fund.

Babsons Plan To Put Our Dollars To Work

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1939, Publishers Financial Bureau)

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 14.—This is the queerest depression the United States and Canada have ever experienced. One of the ordinary symptoms of hard times is tight money. In our previous depressions, no one had any cash. Banks always had one eye peeled on the currency drawer. The sheriff's office was busy slapping attachments on shops and business offices. Interest rates were high. No one wanted to lend money. Everyone wanted to borrow.

But here we are well along in the second installment of the "Great Depression" with banks choked with cash, with more money in circulation than ever before, with interest rates at a new all-time low, with thrifty people unable to find suitable ways to invest their savings. Let's take the practical problem of a young family today. Brought up in the tradition of thrift, they are paying their bills and have a little something left over at the end of the month. What should they do with it? Put it in the bank? Buy or build a home? Bury it in the backyard? Purchase life insurance? Invest it in stocks?

Program First Step

Well, the first thing they should do is to lay out a program. The twin keynotes of this program should be cash reserves and the cheapest form of good life insurance. Banks all over the nation are now again slashing interest rates on savings accounts. Discouraging as this trend is, I think every young family must forget interest and use bank accounts just as young people always have. Banks are the simplest places in which to store your money. If we have inflation, you will get the same number of dollars out of the bank that you put into it. If we have inflation, the dollars you dig up in the backyard will buy no more than the phony ones that you draw out of the bank.

However, there is no need to put all your cash in a savings bank. There are four other possibilities where the interest rate is better and safety should be as good. First are the federal savings and loan associations. They are paying 3 per cent in many instances. A second possibility is a Postal Savings account, which pays 2 per cent. Then there are the "Baby Bonds" issued by the U. S. Treasury. They can be purchased in any amount from $25 up, but no one can buy more than $10,000 par value in any one year. You pay $75 for a $100 bond. You get no "interest" each year; but collect it all at once at the end of ten years. It figures 2.9 per cent annually. These bonds can be "cashed in" at any time on 60 days' notice.

Diversify Savings Accounts

Depositors' money is as safe in the above-mentioned places as it can be under present circumstances. Inflation or repudiation may come. If so, my guess is that it will wipe out 25 per cent to 75 per cent of the purchasing value of your cash or savings account. No one, of course knows just how much repudiation or inflation we will have or how it will come about. Savings accounts, "Baby Bonds," and even life insurance would suffer; but nevertheless, young people should take this risk.

When buying life insurance, my advice to young husbands and fathers is to buy straight life insurance with no "frills." It is the cheapest form of protection and, after all, you buy insurance for protection, not for an investment. Massachusetts and New York have savings bank policies which are considerably cheaper than private company policies. The competition of this savings bank insuance is not entirely fair to the private companies for the tax status is not comparable. Yet, it shows the savings possible when high sales commissions, plush offices, unnecessary overhead, and wasteful distribution costs are eliminated.

New Houses No Bargain

After a good start on several small savings accounts or Baby Bonds, and plenty of life insurance, the next tep for our young family is a home. No one building a house with union labor is getting any bargain today. Certain material prices are almost as high as wage rates. However, interest rates are low and offset the other factors to some extent. While the wages of building labor are as high, or higher, than in 1929, the wages of building money (interest) are only half as high. So I am still in favor of a young couple getting their home started as soon as possible.

Pick out a good centrally-located neighborhood in or near a college town if possible. Build a simple, compact, well-insulated home that will stand up through the years. Avoid the type of home that is "in style" at the moment. It is only a fad and will depreciate much faster than homes that have remained in good taste in New England and Virginia for 300 years. Take a F.H.A. instalment loan mortgage. Bargain for the lowest interest rate possible. Be sure to get enough land with your house so you can have a kitchen garden if you are out of work.

Pick Only The Best

Now our young family has its cash reserve, life insurance, and mortgaged home. The latter is as good protection against inflation as the other two items are vulnerable to it. From now on you can buy other forms of investment—preferably good stocks. Pick a broad group of conservative issues listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Get issues that have a good dividend record, no debt, and own natural resources. Diversify as much as you can;—diversification is the best investment insurance you can buy.

Meanwhile, remember that current crazy conditions cannot last forever. Unless "pressure groups" are prohibited at Washington, the nation is going into inflation and chaos. Such a program as I have outlined is sound. It protects you as much as posible, whichever way the cat jumps. Furthermore, it puts your dollars to work. Remember, our billions of idle dollars must be put to work before our millions of unemployed can go back to work!

W. F. M. SOCIETY SUPPER

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Savannah church gathered in the grove of Cascade park for a ham supper Thursday evening. Twelve ladies were present and enjoyed the delicious meal which was cooked outdoors.

After supper a very interesting talk was given by Mrs. Anna Kohler and at a late hour the ladies departed to meet again on the second Tuesday evening of August at the home of Mrs. Harold Klingensmith.

STANDARD BEARER PICNIC

The Savannah Standard Bearers will have a picnic supper at Cascade park on next Tuesday evening, July 18, at 6:30 o'clock. The mother of each Standard Bearer girl is invited as well as the members of the Women's Foreign Missionary society.

AROUND CITY HALL

Chief of Police Ralph Criswell is determined to rid the community of undesirable characters. In the past week, no less than a dozen transients who have been loafing about the city have been ordered to get out of town as quickly as possible.

Investigating a report that there were no lights in the Narrows, police found the other evening that four lights had been broken.

Request of James A. Chamber, attorney for the Citizens National Bank, that the bank be given some consideration in the payment of a grading lien on four lots on Hazelcroft avenue, which had recently been taken over from the former owner, was referred to the superintendent of finance and solicitor for an opinion at council meeting Thursday. It was shown the bank had paid back taxes amounting to $746 on the properties taken back on Hazelcroft and Hillcrest avenues. The original grading lien was $38.45 for each lot but with the defaulted interest, now amounts to $71.30.

Another property owned by the city, which has fallen into disuse and poor repair at 440 East Long avenue, has been ordered torn down by Fire Chief McIlwain, Council will view this property along with others to determine what action will be taken. Offers have been made to raze the buildings for the lumber they contain.

A communication was received by city council Thursday from Attorney James A. Chambers, stating that in regard to the stone being quarried on property owned by William F. Patterson and wife, now owned by Clara Patterson, and leased to the National Stone Company, that an agreement had been made between the two above named parties relative to the payment of royalties for stone. The city solicitor was ordered to draw an ordinance to conform to the desire of the owner and lessor in the matter .

Police have discovered that slot machines are being disguised so that they look like something else. Officer Rigby found a machine in a place on West Washington street, which was an innocent looking green box, when the disguise was put in place. There is a close fitting lid which clips over the opening, covering the wheels, which show whether the player wins or not, while the slot where the nickles, dimes, or quarters come out, is also concealed in the same manner.

Council voted to refund taxes amounting to 69 cents to Frank Young, of Woodland avenue. Mr. Young tore down an old barn assessed at $60, for which he had already paid taxes, in the above mentioned sum.

Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar has received a communication from Daniel Berry, 116 W. 25th street, Los Angeles, Cal., that has made him scratch his head. The letter reads: "Dear Sir: Under your authority, you are author, publisher and agent of licenses that place in circulation the business and professional brain children of citizens, or permit them to perform specific rights. May I offer you a novel for publication? Negation does not establish precedent." Maybe you can help John scratch his head.

Charles Leslie against John Paul Noggle in which the sheriff is directed to attach, in satisfaction of a judgment, legacies or distributive shares belonging to the defendant that may be in possession of Mont L. and Anna B. Defer Action On Property Survey

Request Is Made That Council Proceed With Approval Of Project

J. W. Ely, in charge of WPA projects at the local district office, appeared before council Thursday and stated that the names of Paul J. Reider and Walter Kieler had been approved as project supervisors for the real property survey project approved by council last May, and asked that council sanction the project so that work could proceed.

The matter of the cost of the project and an opinion as to whether men now employed would be used was raised by council, and Mr. Ely assured council that the cost to the city would positively not exceed $500 and that all qualified men who are now unemployed would be given preference in employment until the list was exhausted. Approximately 60 to 65 persons would receive employment, he stated.

During the discussion of the matter, which was quite lengthy, Councilman Dunlap left council chambers, and in view of the fact that Councilman Joseph D. Alexander is now on his vacation, and will not return until next week, it was voted to defer action until the meeting of council on Thursday, July 20.

NEW HAMPSHIRE HAS FIRST HANGING IN 21 YEARS

Man Executed For Boy's Death

Hanging Takes Place In Prison At Concord Early This Morning

VICTIM STOLID AS HE MEETS DEATH

(International News Service)

CONCORD, N. H., July 14.—Fulfilling his promise to the prison priest not to give way to emotion, Howard Long, 35, went to his doom early today on the gallows at New Hampshire State Prison with head erect and lips tightly pressed against outcry.

New Hampshire's first hanging in 21 years was accomplished precisely on schedule as Long plunged to his death for the killing of 10-year-old Mark Neville Jensen, the culmination of a long series of sex crimes.

Trap Is Sprung

The trap was sprung at 1:20 a. m. in the pitch darkness of the steward's office as the one glaring light in the room was doused for two seconds. Seven minutes later Long was pronounced dead by Dr. Chauncey Adams, prison physician.

The trap, situated in the center of the office room in a small brick building was sprung by one of three plungers operated by Sheriff Frederick A. Elliott and his two assistants. This arrangement gave each of the three men the comforting thought that his was not the button which sent Long to his death.

New Banking Institution Is Being Proposed

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Establishment of a banking institution which would hold securities and cash of brokerage customers was discussed today by officials of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the New York Stock Exchange.

SEC Chairman Jerome Frank, Ganson Purcell, director of the commission's trading and exchange division; William McC. Martin, president of the New York Stock Exchange, and E. A. Bartlett, chairman of the exchange's board of governors were the conferees at the commission's headquarters.

The purpose of the bank would be to safeguard interests of brokerage customers. It would prevent losses to customers in the event brokerage houses failed, or if a brokerage official asconded with funds or securities.

PILOT WEDS, THEN FLIES

Immediately after Captain J. Annesley Hawkins was married to Miss Sheila Lockwood in Kirkwall, Orkney Island, he flew his air liner on its daily rounds of the northern isles of Scotland. He returned for lunch, and he and his bride flew as passengers on the outward mail for a five-day honeymoon in the air, according to an Aberdeen report. Both bride and groom are descended from the ancient Irish family of Annesley.

Rehoboam: A Man Who Made A Foolish Choice

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

"A man's pride shall bring him low."—Proverbs 29:23.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 16 is I Kings 12 1-20, the Golden Text being Proverbs 29:23. "A man's pride shall bring him low.")

"And Solomon slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David his father and Rehoboam his son reigned in his stead."

Thus ended last week's lesson. Rehoboam went down to Shechem to be crowned, and many went there to see the crowning. Now as soon as Solomon was dead, many of the prominent men sent to Egypt whence Jeroboam had fled. You remember, of course, how the prophet Ahijah, had told him he would rule over ten tribes of Israel if he would promise to walk in the way of the Lord. The Israelites wanted him to be their leader.

Jeroboam came and led a deputation to call on Rehoboam and ask him what he would do for them. "Thy father made our yoke grievous; now therefore make thou the grievous service of thy father, and his heavy yoke which he put upon us, lighter, and we will serve thee," they told him. This was Rehoboam's chance to right the wrongs that had been inflicted on his people by King Solomon in the latter days of his rule. At that time he asked for more time to think the matter over and consult his advisers. "Depart ye for three days, then come again to me," he said, and they departed.

Calls Father's Counsellors

Then Rehoboam called together the men who had been his father's counsellors, and asked them what answer he should give to the people. Their answer was: "If thou wilt be a servant unto this people this day, and wilt serve them, and answer them, and speak good words to them, then they will be thy servants forever."

Rehoboam had not inherited any of his father's wisdom, for this advice did not satisfy him and he called together the young men who had grown up with him and asked them what his answer to his people should be. And what do you suppose these smart young men counseled him? They told him to say: "Whereas my father did lade you with a heavy yoke, I will add to your yoke; my father hath chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions."

And Rehoboam actually did answer the people in that way when they came to him on the third day, as he had said. You can imagine how angry they were, and how they went away storming, saying: "What portion have we in David? neither have we inheritance in the son of Jesse; to your tents, O Israel, now see to thine own house, David." Meaning that David's descendant was nothing to them, and they would go home and refuse to be ruled by Rehoboam. And so it was that Rehoboam lost ten of the tribes of Israel and had only one left, the tribe of Judah, for when he sent a man by the name of Adoram to collect tribute from his subjects, they stoned and killed him, so that Rehoboam got into his chariot and fled to Jerusalem. "A man's pride shall bring him low," says our Golden Text, and indeed it is so.

His Foolish Choice

It was indeed a foolish choice that Rehoboam made, and I imagine he deeply regretted it. It is a choice we, too, must make, although we too must make, although we rule over no people and have inherited no throne. But it is a choice between being thoughtful of others, considerate of their feelings, treating them as we would like to be treated. And if we do this we will be much happier all our lives and so much more useful to a world that so sadly needs strong, faithful, broad-minded people, "with charity to all and malice toward none."

In the week's reading is included the story of Ruth, who was a loyal friend and daughter-in-law. Do you remember the story of the man who went to live in a strange land because there was a famine in his own? He took with him his wife and two sons. His wife's name was Naomi. Both his sons married women of this new land, and one son married a girl by the name of Ruth. In course of time both sons died and Naomi started back to her native land, and with her the sons' wives. After a time they came to a parting of the ways, and Naomi told her sons' wives to go back to their own people. One did, but Ruth would not leave her mother-in-law, saying "Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee: for whither thou goest I will go; and where thou lodgest I will lodge; they people shall be my people, and thy God my God."

Naomi must have been a very good mother-in-law, to win such love and loyalty, and Ruth must have been a very loving and appreciative person, must she not?

Compiled And Presented For Publication In The News By Fred B. Sankey, President Of Old Timer's Day Association

Old Timers Day Cascade Park, Wednesday, August 16, 1939.

Joseph Pollock emigrated to the wilds of Western Pennsylvania in 1780. His son, Dr. Joseph Pollock, received his collegiate training at Jefferson College, Canonsburg, the forerunner of Washington & Jefferson, and in 1809 married Rachael Morehead. In 1818 he moved to Monongahela City, where he gained a large practice, organized the first lodge of masons, and the first company of militia in that place. In 1835 he came to New Castle and bought a large farm south of Division street (now Pollock avenue), on which stood a stone house built in 1812, where he resided until his death in 1856.

He was instrumental in the forming of Lawrence county, labored to get the public school system which was installed in about 1834, and was superintendent of the Beaver division of the Erie canal in 1841-1843. Was a member of the legislature in 1851-1852. He was the father of a large family, namely: Isaphena and Wm. McMillin, Belinda and Robert Clendenin, Camilla and Wm. Maitland, Adaline and Joseph S. White, Josephine and Wm. Somers, Caroline and Denis McCoy, Laura and John Mitchell, Periander and Elizabeth Pollock, Milo and Mary Ann Pollock, Hiram and Sarah Pollock. Dr. Joseph was the grandfather of James K. Pollock, Ph.D., who is professor of political science, University of Michigan, lecturer, and known internationally; and of Rachael Pollock Taylor.

John Jacob Liebendorfer, born 1766, in Wurtemberg, Germany, settled in Lawrence county, and died at Wurtemberg in 1833, the town being named after Wurtemberg, from whence he emigrated. He was the father of Daniel Liebendorfer, born here in 1800, who married Caroline Stritmater, and the grandfather of John L. Liebendorfer, a successful business man who came to New Castle in 1848. Surviving great grandchildren are Mrs. E. W. Crawford and J. Cam Liebendorfer.

John B. Nicklin who came from Franklin, Pa., in 1835, was the father of Samuel C. Nicklin. The Nicklins, Samuel and his wife, Mrs. Harriett Nicklin, were very prominent in New Castle musical circles. Mrs. Nicklin was organist at the First Presbyterian church for many years. Miss Lottie Nicklin and Mrs. Harriett Nicklin Cromlish of this city are granddaughters of John B. Nicklin.

Robert McCandless settled in Mt. Jackson in 1836. He and his son, Wm. H. McCandless, later bought a farm in South New Castle where the Weinschenk gardens are located. Frank P. McCandless and Mabel McCandless survive William H. McCandless.

William Norris, the father of Edwin F. Norris, was born here in 1836. Edwin F. Norris was prominently identified with several of New Castle's manufacturing companies, and in the progress of the city. He was the father of John W. Norris, Mrs. Henry E. Rappold, Mrs. M. Findley McConnell, and Buleah Norris.

METHOD OF INSTILLING BREATH IN NEW-BORN INFANTS COMPARES WITH ANCIENT PROCEDURE

One of the most recent discoveries in the direction of starting newborn infants off to their first breath is a procedure that mid-wives and doctors have been practising for centuries without knowing its full scientific significance. I know I have often done it myself.

I refer to the recent discovery that the administration of a gas mixture to the baby who can't take its first breath is about the best thing that can be done. Actually the practice of breathing into the mouths of infants is as old as the centuries. "Blowing breath into them," we always called it. We didn't know until recently that it was the gas mixture in our breaths that did the trick.

It is quite a thing to "blow breath" into a baby who looks as though he were dead or dying. I'll never forget the first time I did it, over thirty years ago. Called away out into a backwoods settlement one night to attend a young woman's first confinement, I found the roads bad and went part of the way on a freight train. The father met me in a sleigh at the stop, and drove me the remaining miles into the little clearing where he had built his cabin.

I was there in plenty of time for the birth, and the woman's didn't have a terribly hard time—they are hardy women, these wives of the settlers in the north. The baby was a normal-sized boy, but when I examined him I saw that he wasn't breathing. It was one of my first confinement cases, and I must admit I was a little panic-stricken about it all. I hurriedly tried to remember I had heard in the University about such cases, and then I remembered my father. I had never seen him perform this trick of blowing breath into a dying child, but he had often told me of it. I knew, too, it was a last resort, so I wiped my mouth—my lips were pretty dry by then, anyway—and blew my breath gently into the little mouth.

Well, in just about a minute that child gave a gasp and a cry and commenced to breath. I can never forget that first awful moment and my feeling of exaltation when it succeeded. I have blown beath into dozens of babies since then, but it is this particular one that stands out most in my mind.

Today the more scientific way is to administer gas to the child by means of a mask which fits fairly tightly over the face. A rubber tube runs from this mask to a rubber bag which contains the proper mixture of oxygen and carbon dioxide. This bag is squeezed rhythmically ten or fifteen times per minute.

Of course this method requires considerable apparatus which the average country physician does not have at his disposal. I have no doubt that many of these men will continue to follow the old-fashioned practice of "blowing" breath into the babies who do not start breathing themselves.

Occasionally in hospitals, where very weak babies are born and the above method won't work, they insert a tube almost to the bronchi and introduce the gas away down there.

Youth Is Looking For Meanest Thief

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 14.—A 12-year-old boy looked out cynically upon a cruel world today.

For eight years, Franklin Langsdale labored so that some day he might buy a bike. His father was unemployed and going was plenty rough. But finally, Frank saved $25—the price of a new shiny bike.

For three days he had found his happiness and then—

Some mean person stole Frank's bike.

"I know," the boy said, holding back the tears, "that if whoever stole the bike knew how hard I worked and how much I wanted it, they'd bring it back right away."

Billy Conn Is New Champion, Beats Bettina

Pittsburgh Boy Wins Light Heavyweight Championship In 15 Torrid Rounds

WOULD LIKE TO MEET JOE LOUIS

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 14.—Billy Conn—21, Irish and handsome—is the new light heavyweight champion of the world.

He is the new king of the division because he was able to outspeed, outpunch and, above all, outthink Melio Bettina, from whose beetle-browed dome he knocked the diadem in 15 torrid rounds in Madison Square Garden last night.

Yes, Billy is deservedly, the light heavyweight champion but I doubt that he'll ever realize his ambition to be heavyweight champion of the world.

Not Heavy Enough

He has every qualification but one to be heavyweight boss. He has the head, the heart, the speed, the fighting instinct, and the punch. But he lacks that all important essential—the weight.

Billy simply is not big enough and I doubt that he ever will be. He hasn't the frame to pack weight enough to meet a man like Joe Louis. You may have heard how fast and big he's been growing. That was strictly the bunk. He weighed in at 170¼ for his title fight and if you fed him nothing but steak and spuds for the next ten years he probably would weigh no more.

Billy showed plenty of temper as a middleweight when he let his anger betray him into wide open battling against such a punishing hitter as Fred Apostoli.

Uses Fast Jab

But against Bettina he used his head to better advantage and it was his ability to outsmart the slow-moving and slower thinking Bettina rather than his punching that brought him victory.

Billy must have fed Bettina a thousand jabs to the mouth and nose and soon the rugged Italian was displaying a decided distaste for this constant do age of leather.

It was a good tough fight and the loser was by no means disgraced. The referee gave nine rounds to Conn and six to Bettina and that's about the way most of the experts saw it.

We can think of no light heavyweight except Gus Lesnevich who has a chance with Conn and he may reign for a long time unless the lack of big gates forces him to take on the big fellows.

At that, he can lick many a heavy right now but—as for that man Louis—Billy had better sing "Stay Away from My Door."

Ostrosky Hurls Two-Hit Game

Brownie Ostrosky In Rare Form Gives Slovaks Two Hits, Score Is 12 To 0

Brownie Ostrosky stood on the mound at Clifton Flats last night and put on as neat a pitching exhibition as one could ask for, as he limited the Slovak club, first half champs in the city league, to two hits while his mates were helping themselves to 14 hits to win the game 12 to 0.

Mike Coates started for the Slovak club and gave way to Johnny Carik in the second inning, Coates being charged with the defeat. The Slovaks played very loose ball in the field, registering seven glaring errors. The K. Pulaski players were faultless in the field.

Bill Sovesky featured the game by cracking out a homer, while Flier Mateja had three of the Oakland hits, so did Brysh, while Magusiak had a pair of doubles and a single. Best for the Slovak club at bat was Mike Budai, with a double.

The defeat put the Slovak club out of first place as the Lawrence Indies won their game from the Saints.

Yankees Drop Sixth Straight

Detroit Tigers Score Nine Runs In Eighth Inning To Upset League Leaders

CINCINNATI REDS KEEP ON WINNING

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 14—Two weeks ago the baseball world was bemoaning the fact that the Yanks were making a joke of the American League race and wondering why the junior circut couldn't stage a nice close fight like the National League.

At that time the Yanks were 13 games ahead of the Red Sox while the Reds were struggling to keep ahead of the pack on their heels.

They appeared to have their losing streak stopped when they went into the last half of the eighth yesterday against the Tigers with a four to one lead and Atley Donald seemed well on the way to his eleventh straight victory. Then the deluge. Donald walked three straight after two were out. Then he was out and before the third Tiger was out nine runs had been scored. The final score was Detroit 10, New York 6.

Red Sox Win

The Red Sox had to travel 10 innings in a night game to top the Indians, 6 to 5. The Sox routed Bob Feller, hero of the All-Star game by scoring five runs in the fourth.

The A's spotted the White Sox eight runs in three innings and then came on to win, 12 to 10. The Browns spotted the Senators three and then beat them, 4-3 behind Kennedy.

Reds Win Again

The Reds widened the gap between themselves and the Giants when Bucky Walters turned in his 14th victory by trimming the Terrymen, 7 to 0.

The Cardinals and Bees split a pair; St. Louis taking the first, 5-3, behind Davis and Cooper and the Bees the nightcap, 3-1.

The Dodgers and Pirates were idle but the Phils and Cubs put on quite a night battle in more ways than one. The Cubs won in the ninth, 7-5.

Baseball odds and ends...Harland Clift is the only player to survive all changes which have been made in the St. Louis Browns since Don Barnes and associates bought the club...Harry Danning, New York Giants' catcher, wears the largest mitt of any backstop in the big show....Al Schacht, the "Clown Prince of Baseball', has already traveled 20,000 miles in his itinerary of comedy acts....Dodger doings: Recently, Tut Stainback chucked for about a half-hour of batting practice and then found out he was in the starting lineup!... The Cincinnati Reds paid but $268 for Frank McCormick, first baseman, one of the lads responsible for the club's pennant drive...Baseball gossipers are wondering who paid Paul Derringer's law suit in New York.

A bit of everything....Despite all the ribbing he got for bicycling his way when he met Joe Louis, Bob Pastor has been doing quite well. His take in his last 27 scraps averaged $2,000. His coming shindig with Louis will put him in the big dough again. They say Pastor's training schedule calls for a daily bicycling tour...Creighton university is stepping out this fall by giving the kids a chance. It would be interesting to watch McClelland matching wits with his former coach, Phil Bridenbaugh...To Frank "Yanks" Marcella: Vincent DiMaggio poled out his 33rd homer of the year on Wednesday evening in Louisville. He recorded his 32nd Tuesday night in the ninth.

We hope that not too many folks felt ill after baking the spice cake that we published in this column this week. Although we haven't heard from any bakers we do feel that the receipt is a good one and should work without a hitch.

If you are going on a vacation this summer be sure you take enough time on the road without making it necessary to drive at a high rate of speed. . .Of course here in Pennsylvania the speed law is rather seriously enforced but not all your travelling will be within the state lines. You owe it to your family and to yourself to drive carefully. We know only too well how easily it is to "step on it" . . . so let's turn over a new leaf . . . and drive sanely . . . no matter in which state we drive.

How many people in Lawrence County are growing Blue Mexican Corn? How many have tasted this type of corn? We venture to say that, not many people, would answer both questions. But if you ever get a chance to try some . . . don't pass it up. We really believe you will enjoy it.

As each day goes into the dusk . . . more and more people are convinced that our little Cascade Park is a wonder spot. Although it is not as large as some parks'. . . and the amusements are not as numerous . . . we do have scenery that will pass all others. Have you visited the Park this summer? Why not plan on taking your supper out some evening and really look around. You don't need to spend a red cent . . . just look . . . and while you are thinking about Parks . . . think about the other parks in the city . . . can you name them all?

Market Issues Moving Ahead

Light Profit-Taking Fails To Put Much Of Damper On Market Advance Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, July 14.—Light profit-taking checked the stock market advance today, after the sustained rise through the four previous sessions. Losses were modest, however, and several issues continued to move ahead.

First hour turnover was limited to 330,000 shares, contrasted with 420,000 shares in the same period yesterday.

A few issues dropped a point or more, as American Telephone, American Can and Union Carbide, but most declines were limited to minor fractions.

Among the small losses were Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Youngstown, General Motors, American Smelting, Anaconda, Kennecott, DuPont, Western Union, Montgomery Ward, N. Y. Central, Consolidated Edison, U. S. Rubber, General Electric and Standard Oil of N. J.

Chrysler, Westinghouse Electric, Union Pacific, National Steel and Douglas Aircraft bucked the downward trend.

Tuition Claims Must Be Settled

Ellwood School Board Holds Fast To Ultimatum To Outside Districts

OTHER ACTION AT BOARD MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, July 14.—Holding fast to their ultimatum that surrounding school districts must make satisfactory arrangements to take care of delinquent tuition for high school students if they are to be permitted to attend the Lincoln high school this fall, members of the Ellwood City Board of Education at their July meeting on Thursday evening held a lengthy discussion with three representatives of the Ellport school board, one of the delinquent districts.

The Ellport board owes $5,000 delinquent tuition, with an average of 65 pupils attending the Ellwood high school. They have made application for special state aid and said they could possibly make a payment from the appropriation to be received in August. Their last payment of $500 was made in January. They plan a tax collection drive, they said. Since 1931, they have paid the Ellwood district $33,000 tuition, they stated. Superintendent Bell pointed out that 65 pupils required the services of two extra teachers. The matter was held over until the August meeting.

The Wayne township board, which owes some $12,000, had sent a letter from their attorney, suggesting various plans of payment. Before taking any action with the Wayne board, the Ellwood secretary will confer with their solicitor. They send 135 pupils to Ellwood.

The North Sewickley township board, also in arrears, was not represented. By a recent act of legislature, appropriations may be attached for tuition, the board was told.

Until the tuition matter is settled, vacancies in the Ellwood teaching staff will not be filled. There are five teachers to be elected but Mr. Bell said these teachers would not be needed if the tuition pupils were not accepted.

It was agreed to accept the 1939 tax abatement act with the provision of five equal payments waiving the penalty but not interest charges.

The delinquent tax collector's commission was set at 2 per cent and $100 per month for collecting delinquent per capita tax. A $5,000 surety bond will be secured for C. V. Lambert, delinquent collector.

A commission of three-fourths of one per cent for current tax and 5 per cent for delinquent collections will be paid the tax collector, Howard Wilson. This is the same rate as last year and his bond will be the same as that of 1939.

The tax collector was exonerated of $20,140 per capita tax and $13,832 property tax, with the lists to be assigned to the delinquent collector. Delinquent property and per capita tax to the amount of $919 was collected in June by Mr. Lambert. The past due state appropriation amounting to $34,508 has been received and applied in part to the note held by the People's bank.

For making changes in the heating and piping system of the boiler rooms in the various schools, the bid was awarded to F. J. Gardner at $85.25. A. W. Richards was the other bidder. The work will be done under the architect's supervision.

It was agreed to advertise for bids for maple flooring for the first floor of the Circle school.

Coal bids were opened and the contract was awarded to the low bidder, Old Furnace Coal company. Each load will be inspected upon delivery.

Various salary adjustments were made in the teaching staff and Miss Bette Ferris, stenographer, was granted a five-dollar increase in salary.

Fall Maneuvers For German Army

Will Be Held West Of Elbe River According To Berlin Report

FORESEE SEVERAL MONTHS OF PEACE

(International News Service)

BERLIN, July 14—A new factor pointing towards at least a couple of months of peace entered the European scene today when it was announced that the huge fall maneuvers of the German army would be held west of the Elbe river.

The war games will include part of the Sudetenland, and will center, it was believed, in an area west and south of Dresden.

This means that the great army concentration will be at least 125 miles from the Polish border and nearly 300 miles from the nearest point on the French frontier.

Germany's anger mounted today over British plans to duplicate her mass flight over France with a longer jaunt to Poland. If Britain's squadrons fly over neutral countries, the Reich press warned, the act will be "a heavy prevocation and shameless attempt at intimidation."

According to one report, Chancellor Hitler himself showed the keenest interest in the British flight to Bordeaux Tuesday. He called in some advisors at Berchtesgaden, it was asserted, and asked what the damage might be if they flew over Germany in war-time.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

"Eh? What did you say? How's that? I didn't hear you."

Does this chap have inattention deafness?

Or is he really losing his hearing?

A first sign of hearing loss is a confusion of sounds.

Certain words do not register clearly on the ear-drum.

Not wihing to appear stupid, the deafened one guesses.

Sometimes he guesses wrong—and gets a laugh.

The laugh embarrasses him and he gradually withdraws from society.

He becomes introspective, moody and highly sensitive.

A many as 14,000,000 Americans are said to be partly deaf.

Many may be only suffering from wax in the ears.

When hearing fails, see an otologist, an ear physician.
